Dear Hal:

This is to invite you to participate in a Workshop on "China and the Korean Peninsula in the 1980s," to be convened by The Rand Corporation at Rand's Washington Office, 2100 M St., N.W., on Tuesday, April 3 and Wednesday, April 4, 1984. A preliminary agenda and briefing paper prepared for the Workshop are attached.

The Workshop will bring together policy makers, government analysts of Asian affairs, academic specialists, and members of The Rand Corporation's professional research staff to discuss recent developments in Chinese policy toward North and South Korea. The Workshop will assess some of the alternative explanations of these developments, evaluate the role of other involved powers as they affect Chinese policy calculations, assess China's future policy directions, and discuss the policy implications of these issues in light of President Reagan's impending visit to the People's Republic of China.

Your attendance at the meeting would contribute greatly to the proceedings, and I very much hope you will be able to participate. If you have any questions or concerns, I can be reached at 213-393-0411, ext. 7249. I look forward to your joining our discussions next week.

Sincerely,

Jonathan D. Pollack
Senior Staff Member
Political Science Department
